Session of 1974

158th of the General Assembly

Vol. 1, No. 91

SENATE

MONDAY, January 21, 1974.

The Senate met at 1:00 p.m., Eastern Daylight Saving Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (Martin L. Murray) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, The Reverend PAUL H. KLEFFEL, Pastor of Calvary United Methodist Church, Lemoyne, offered the following prayer:

Honorable sirs, before the prayer I want to pay tribute to my late Senator, The Honorable George N. Wade, in these words of Georgia Harkness, a contemporary theologian, in a poem she wrote entitled, "To My Father."

"A giant pine, magnificent and old,
"Stood staunch against the sky and all around
"Shed beauty, grace and power.
"Within its fold
"Birds safely reared their young.
"The velvet ground
"Beneath was gentle, and the cooling shade
"Gave cheer to passers-by. Its towering arms
"A landmark stood, erect and unafraid
"As if to say, 'Fear not from life's alarms'.
"It fell one day. Where it dauntless stood "Was loneliness and void. But men who passed
"Paid tribute—said, 'To know this life
"was good.
"It left its mark on me. Its works stand "fast.'
"And so it lives. Such life no bonds
"can hold—
"This giant pine, magnificent and old."

We will pray:

Almighty God, our heavenly Father, we come to You this day in awe and humility. Decisions have to be made and there is no escaping them. Time was when we thought it would be great to be the one to call the shots, to determine the policies, to have things pretty much our own way. But many are the times when we wish we could throw the ball to someone else and let them run with it and face the blocking line. Decisions—how few affect only taste or preference, cash gain or loss. There are lives involved! And futures! How many hopes and dreams can be shattered by one error in judgment.

Lord, give these Senators insight and wisdom. Make them sensitive to others' needs as well as to their obvious privileges. Give them courage to decide rightly, not to knuckle under unjust demand. Keep them mindful, also, that they are prone to err. Should they judge wrongly, make them mature enough to accept deserved blame. We can well appreciate Your decision that led to Jesus' coming. May we often think how He put eternal welfare of others, even His avowed enemies, above His personal security. First, He knelt alone to think about it, to talk it over with You in solemn prayer. Then He walked the gauntlet to the cross on a hill. He knew what had to be done. So, He did it. The decision that brought Him death brought us life. He knew it would, so he made the move.

Father, let our quiet moments with You be the drawing board on which proper decisions are designed. Let these decisions reflect that You are our constant Consultant, and that our human judgment has not tampered with Your will. Then, Father, give these Senators, our Governor, Lieutenant Governor and all laborers in our Commonwealth the strength of faith that Your will may be truly done.

Through Christ our Lord we pray. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding Session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding Session, when, on motion of Senator LAMB and Senator MESSINGER, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

SECOND CONSIDERATION CALENDAR

BILLS REREPORTED FROM COMMITTEE AS AMENDED ON SECOND CONSIDERATION

SB 1409 (Pr. No. 2009)—The bill was considered.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on second consideration?

Senator HILL offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 8), page 2, line 16, by inserting a period after "vacancy"

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 8), page 2, lines 16 and 17, by striking out "within ninety days of the first day of the vacancy and not thereafter."

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Senator FRAME. Mr. President, may we have a roll call vote?

Senator BELL. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator HILL.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Hill, permit himself to be interrogated?

Senator HILL. I will, Mr. President.

Senator BELL. Mr. President, will the gentleman briefly tell us what is in his amendments?

Senator HILL. Mr. President, on page 2, line 7, the bill presently reads: "The Governor shall fill vacancies (hap-

The amendment would take out "within ninety days of the first day of the vacancy and not thereafter."

Senator STAUFFER. Mr. President, I would like to rise in opposition to the amendments offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Hill. I think it is very important that this change includes a provision wherein the Governor is mandated to send a nomination to the Senate within a reasonable time, and the ninety-day provision which exists in the bill is a reasonable time and one which I believe should be adhered to.

Mr. President, I think the best illustration of the importance of keeping the bill in its present form, and not eliminating the ninety-day provision, is a situation which existed in Chester County two or three years ago, in which the President Judge of our Court of Common Pleas suddenly passed away, and we went for one year and four months without a nomination being submitted to the Senate.

During that period of sixteen months we had a vacancy on our Bench. It necessitated bringing in visiting judges and it contributed to a court backlog. I think one of the things we are trying to overcome with the legislation before us is to provide an orderly process whereby we will not have situations of that type prevail in the future.

The adoption of these amendments could lead us to having that exact same type of situation recur and, for that reason, I do not think it is an advisable amendment.

Senator HILL. Mr. President, all these amendments do give the Governor some time to make the appointment without forcing him into a ninety day period. It seems to me that the bill takes care of the real problem, and it requires the Senate to act on the nomination within twenty-five legislative days of its submission. I think that is where the real problem has been, and the bill takes care of that. Furthermore, there is no penalty if the Governor does not fill the vacancy within ninety days and it is really meaningless, but I think it does unnecessarily restrict him.

Senator TILGHMAN. Mr. President, I also rise to oppose these amendments. I understand that the thrust of the amendments has something to do with the judiciary and I am not sure what it is. Is it that they cannot present the names in ninety days for judges? Apparently, in some way, it gives a longer period of time to appoint judges. I think, if anything, maybe we ought to amend it to thirty days. But I think the lift, the time from ninety days to infinity, as the gentleman from Chester, Senator Stauffer, pointed out, is rather ridiculous. We do not go forward in that kind of legislation or this type of amendments.

Therefore, Mr. President, I would oppose these amendments.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Senator FRAME and were as follows, viz:

So the question was determined in the affirmative, and the amendments were agreed to.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill on second consideration, as amended?

Senator STROUP offered the following amendment:

Amend Sec. 1 (Sec. 8), page 2, line 19 by inserting after "submission.": If the Senate has not voted upon a nomination within fifteen legislative days following such submission, any five members of the Senate may, in writing, request the presiding officer of the Senate to place the nomination before the entire Senate body whereby the nomination must be voted upon prior to the expiration of five legislative days or twenty-five legislative days following submission by the Governor, whichever occurs first.

On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

Senator STROUP. Mr. President, for many months the study committee on confirmation and, indeed, the Rules and Executive Nominations Committee were getting together to bring before us a complete remedy insofar as our confirmation procedures are concerned. There is very little in the long run we did not agree upon. There has been some slight disagreement, and one of them may be the amendment which I offered—and of that I am not too sure.

Mr. President, the purpose of the amendment which I offer is to insert into Senate Bill No. 1409, as a constitutional provision, the identical language as we now have in Senate Bill No. 1579, which would be considered later if this amendment should fail.

Mr. President, if I may refer you to page 2, line 21, in Senate Bill No. 1409, you will read there as follows:

"If the Senate for any reason fails to act upon a nomination submitted to it within the required twenty-five legislative days, the nominee shall take office as if the appointment had been consented to by the Senate."

This clause has caused us considerable worry and frustration. Those of us on the study committee and members of the Rules and Executive Nominations Committee came to the conclusion that that clause, standing alone, without restrictions and without more, could very well defeat the entire purpose of our confirmation procedure remedies.

For that reason, finally, Senate Bill No. 1579 was drafted for consideration. That, of course, is a legislative act.

Many of us, however, are of the opinion that in the untoward event that one party should be in control of the executive and the legislative branches of government, Senate Bill No. 1579 might very well be repealed. In that event, the Rules and Executive Nominations Committee would fail to function within the twenty-five days' limitation and every appointment of the entire government would automatically take office, and this would be regrettable. It would be much more difficult to change the Constitution than it would be to repeal a legislative act.

For that reason, I am suggesting to the Members of the Senate that the provisions of Senate Bill No. 1579 be inserted in Senate Bill No. 1409, which is a constitutional amendment bill, and there is less likelihood that our purposes in the remedy we are devising would ever be changed.

I submit it to the Members of the Senate, Mr. President, and I ask them to give it their serious consideration.

Senator KURY. Mr. President, I listened with great interest to the words of my colleague from Bedford, Senator Stroup, and recall the great contribution which he made to the work of our committee on Senate confirmation, of which I had the privilege of serving as Chairman. The gentleman from Bedford, Senator Stroup, was a dedicated and very constructive member of that committee, and I appreciate the point which he has made with regard to insuring that the minority party, whichever party it happens to be, will always be in a position to get a floor vote on nominees to these various offices. I agree with the point he is making that the minority party, whether it be Democrat or Republican, should have that right.

But, Mr. President, I must disagree with his conclusion that this necessitates putting an amendment of this detail into our State Constitution. I think, in all honesty, this situation should be such that we can make this a matter of Senate Rules. Some of the Members think that is too easy to change, and I will concede that point, perhaps, and we will make it stronger than that. We do have this, however, as the gentleman pointed out, in Senate Bill No. 1579. It is one of the bills that is running with this package and I believe that, as a statute, this will give the minority party, whichever it happens to be, adequate protection.

Mr. President, I am just reluctant to see the Constitution fettered with this kind of detail, which I think is really unnecessary to protect the point which the gentleman raises.

Therefore, Mr. President, I ask the Members to vote against the amendment.

Senator BELL. Mr. President, realizing the sincerity of everybody concerned in this—because I do not think this is a partisan bill—the bill contains a booby trap. There are two lines in this bill which make the bill a farce. One has to recognize how the Legislature works to understand it.

The PRESIDENT. Senator, I take it you are speaking to the amendment before the Senate at the moment?

Senator BELL. Mr. President, I am referring to page 2 of the bill which reads:

"If the Senate for any reason fails to act upon a nomination submitted to it within the required twenty-five legislative days, . . .". What the gentleman from Bedford, Senator Stroup is trying to do is to make a good bill out of a bill that has a turkey in it. The turkey is this, Mr. President: When does the Senate act upon a nomination? It acts upon a nomination, Mr. President, when the Chairman of the Rules and Executive Nominations Committee brings out that nomination. This constitutional amendment, as written, would permit a majority leader of the Senate, who is normally the Rules and Executive Nominations Committee Chairman, to sit on these executive nominations for twenty-five days and, thereby, they are automatically confirmed. This is the booby trap.

What the gentleman from Bedford, Senator Stroup, is saying—and we have discussed this in the Rules and Executive Nominations Committee—is the Majority Leader wants to do it by statute, the gentleman from Bedford, Senator Stroup, wants to do it by constitutional amendment. There are people in this Hall who have seen rather ruthless Governors come and go. The Majority Leader is always a spokesman for the Governor, his loyalty is two-fold: To his party caucus and, also, to the Governor. I know those who served as Majority Leader can verify that sometimes it is pretty rough to wear two hats. But, a ruthless Governor, with the prescribed constitutional majority in both Houses, could repeal this statute which the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Lamb, proposes, and then, where is the protection to the people?

Mr. President, if this constitutional amendment passes in its present form, it can become a nullity, so there will be no senatorial confirmations whenever a ruthless Governor, supported by a strong Majority Leader, decides not to call those names up for confirmation.

Senator KURY. Mr. President, very briefly, first I do, with all due respect to my colleague, the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Bell, take some umbrage at the use of some of the words he used to describe this bill. This bill, whatever the various Members may think of it, is the result of very long and hard work by the five members of that committee who worked diligently and, I think, in a nonpartisan fashion to try to get a bill which all of us could support.

Secondly, I would point out to the Members that the United States Constitution does not have any of this kind of detail in it about confirmation. It simply says the United States Senate shall advise and consent to the presidential appointments. That is all it says, and yet they get floor votes on the nominations. They have a procedure which works and which is effective in seeing that the Senators get a floor vote on all important nominations.

I hope the day will come when our Body will act on this basis, so that we do not have to have all these things in this detail written into our Constitution. I think it is unnecessary and I think that the gentleman offering this amendment underestimates the ability of this Senate to carry out its responsibilities under the law.

I think Senate Bill No. 1579 handles the problem and, therefore, I ask that we defeat the amendment and go on to pass all three bills.

Senator LAMB. Mr. President, I do not see this as a turkey. If I were to compare it, I would call it a peacock. I see it as a beautiful bird, I see it as an answer to some changes which just have to be made in the matter of Senate confirmations. I think all of us here—the editorial writers and the people generally across this Commonwealth—require and are demanding of us that we make some substantial changes in the confirmation procedure.

I am not going to go into a long discussion of what is a constitution. I think, basically, we are all in agreement that a constitution is, in a sense, a guide. It prescribes certain limits with respect to the Legislature, the Governor and the Judiciary. It was never intended that the Constitution set out in every detail the laws of this Commonwealth.

I am in agreement with the gentleman from Northumberland, Senator Kury, that the legislation which we have drafted, which is also on this Calendar, very adequately protects the rights of the minority. Basically, that is what we are trying to do. I do not see any Legislature from now until eternity being under the thumb of a Governor. I do see, however, the possibility that in the future some Legislature—some Legislature, some General Assembly—may want to make some changes, and I do not see why we should now restrict them with a constitutional limitation.

I compliment the committee which worked hard to bring about the legislation which is now before us, but I do not feel that all of those months of good work should now be fettered by unnecessary constitutional prohibitions. I think we recognize the problem, we recognize the obligation to make sure that the minority is protected in this matter of confirmation, and we are doing it by legislation.

I do not think there is anything else you can ask us to do.

Senator MANBECK. Mr. President, after listening to the honorable gentlemen from Allegheny County, Senator Lamb, and Delaware County, Senator Bell, talking about these horrible birds and beautiful birds, I am somewhat confused. I will have to make up my mind and, perhaps, the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Bell, would like to further comment on these turkeys which he found in this bill. As I said, I am somewhat confused at this point.

Senator BELL. Mr. President, I do not know how to answer the gentleman from Lebanon, Senator Manbeck. However, I would rather eat chicken on the table than regurgitate turkey in a bill.

As far as the peacock, the peacock can be a very vicious bird. Peacocks have been known to attack, and they can be pretty darn mean.

Let us just talk about the Senators, instead of the Majority and the Minority. This booby trap should be corrected by constitutional means, because the rights protected will be the rights of every Senator in this room. Can you imagine putting in the hands of the Majority Leader the power, which he presently has, not to call up a person for confirmation and thereby have him automatically confirmed?

I will ask you, Mr. Majority Leader, who is holding up so many confirmations right now in this Senate? We gave to you some 300 names we are ready to confirm. Why are they not called up? Because some Majority Senator says, "No. We know something about this man, we do not want him called up."

This is not merely the Minority and Majority. This is gutting this constitutional amendment.

I heard the gentleman mention the United States Constitution, just a few words. Those few words in the United States Constitution do not give the Majority Leader of the Senate of the United States the power by sitting on confirmations for twenty-five days to win automatically the confirmation of that appointment.

Senator AMMERMAN. Mr. President, I believe if the gentleman from Delaware, Senator Bell, will check with the Minority Leader and his staff, he will find that there are dozens of confirmations which we expect to address tomorrow.

To go on to the merits of the amendment, I would like to point out that what we have now, as far as the Senate is concerned, is nothing, because by biding his time a Governor can make interim appointments and we have no power whatever over those interim appointments. Those people can serve until the Legislature expires and receive new interim appointments.

By this legislation, the three bills in this package, we are completely eliminating interim appointments. In doing so, we have to fill that void with these other provisions. Now, the legislation, the bill later on the Calendar, provides exactly that protection. The only argument today is whether that should be in a statute, or whether it should be in a constitutional amendment. I think probably reasonable people can differ, but it seems only logical that we should not put all of this detail in the Constitution.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution and were as follows, viz:

GUESTS OF SENATOR WILMOT E. FLEMING
PRESENTED TO SENATE

Senator W. E. FLEMING. Mr. President, I would very much appreciate your welcoming on behalf of the Senate today the coach, assistant coaches and members of the Abington High School basketball team who just recently, by defeating Peabody High School in Pittsburgh, became the Class A PIAA basketball champions in Pennsylvania. This is a very fine basketball team.

They are here visiting the Capitol today with Jim Wilkinson, their coach, and the assistant coaches. We would be most appreciative, Mr. President, if you would extend to them your warmest greeting.

The PRESIDENT. If Coach Wilkinson, his staff and the members of the Abington High School championship
